WINE IN SHACK
 CAUSES ARREST
 OF A. RAMELLI

Local Police Find 150 Gallons With 52 Gallons Of Mash

POLICE HOLD TRUNK

Alleged Partner Allowed To Go When No Evidence Is Produced

Saturday night about 8:30 Motor-cycle Officers Trautwein and Collins arrested Amelio Ramelli and locked him in the Glendale jail charged with attempting to transport intoxicating liquors. The truck driven by Ramelli was also held. Ramelli's partner, Walter Rianda was arrested later but was released later, but was ordered released by government officials. Officers Collins and Trautwein arrested Ramelli when he was driving his truck toward the Jessop Dairy on the San Fernando road. When arrested he had a half gallon jug of wine. He was taken to the police station and questioned by Chief Martin. The arrest was made near a shack at the intersection of Wets Elk street and San Fernando road. After interrogating Ramelli Chief Martin, Officer Herda, with Officers Collins and Trautwein visited the shack that is owned by Ramelli and found hidden there 150 gallons of wine and 52 gallons of mash. Officer Balthasar was summoned and detailed to watch the truck. He was armed with a sawed-off shot gun and told to halt anyone attempting to enter the shack and to hold them. While sitting in the shack with the shotgun across his knees, Officer Balthasar heard someone approaching and he remained quiet and in a few minutes a man appeared in the doorway. As soon as he entered the little shack Balthasar commanded him to put up his hands. The intruder paid no attention to the command of the officer but continued to advance. The second command to halt was ignored and Officer Balthasar shoved the muzzle of his gun in the face of the man. This was language that he understood and he submitted to arrest. When taken to the police station it was discovered that the man did not understand English and did not know that the officer had told him to halt. It was Walter Rianda. Rianda told the police, through an interpreter, that he and Ramelli were partners and worked on the Jessop Dairy, but that he did not know that Ramelli was the possessor of illicit liquor. Both men were held over to the night and Sunday morning were taken to Los Angeles and turned over to Prohibition Enforcement Agent O'Leary. O'Leary questioned the men and ordered Ramelli lodged in the County Jail but said that Rianda could be released as there was not sufficient evidence to hold him.

POMONA FIGURES IN HOME BUILDING
 NOT SUCH-A-MUCH

Glory Over Mark $100,000 This Month—We Have Near $500,000

According to a telegraphic report, Pomona reports a record-breaking month as regards building permits issued. The report states that the value of October building is now nearing the $100,000 mark. The report also states that most of the permits have been issued for the erection of homes. Glendaleans refuse to become excited over this report, and their refusal to be thrilled over the matter of a city reporting that building permits for the month are nearing the $100,000 mark can be better understood when it is known that the building permits issued in Glendale for the month of October are nearing the $500,000 mark. To date building permits issued here during October total $472,255, and there is one more week in which to reach the $500,000 mark. Permits for the year total $3,876,854. A record like Glendale's is a record to be pointed to with pride, especially since Glendale, in regards to growth, has been classed among the leading cities of its size in a recent building census taken by the United States census bureau.

WOMAN GIVEN
 SEVEN YEARS
 STATE PRISON

Federal Judge Willetts Has No Use For Display of Sentiment

IN TOLEDO MAIL CASE

Two Women In Attempted Mail Robbery Go to Prison

TOLEDO, O., Oct. 24.—Decrying the "amwkish sentimentality and the halo of heroine worship" that has been cast over Wanda Urbaytis, Federal Judge Killets today sentenced her to seven years and three months in Moundsville prison for her part in the Toledo million-dollar postoffice robbery. The court at the same time passed out sentences to this conspirators in the robbery: Harry Thursh, six years and six months; Edwin Zellish, 18 months; Emma Marvin, six years and six months; Pearl Sommers, four years and four days; Walter Foote, five years and three days; Sadie Helen Furrier, five years and nine months. All were convicted last June of conspiracy to rob the United States mails in connection with the Toledo robbery of February 17, 1921.

To Take Generation
 Before This Nation
 Takes Proper Place

It will take a generation for the United States to take its place among the nations of the world, according to Dr. Frank Crane in his article on the editorial page of this newspaper tonight. He says the great new thought in the world today is world unity, just as the great thought in Washington today was democracy. The United States, he claims, will get around to it when the present generation dies off. Dr. Crane pays his compliments to men who have selfish ends to gain and tells why it is that the United States deserted its allies at the close of the war. You will find his reasoning logical. James W. Foley, philosopher, writes of the real necessities of existence—food, heat and light. He says the spirits of men must be fed with ideals, warmed with enthusiasm and lighted with purpose. Henry James in his comments dwells on the large proportion of crime committed by drug addicts and holds the dope peddler as the thief and murderer. An editorial on "The Truth About Russia" will be found of interest. There are other features on this editorial page that will hold your attention. We commend it as the best editorial page of any newspaper published in the west. We want you to form the habit of reading it every evening.

Defendant Seems Anxious To Take Stand Own Defense

TWIN FALLS, Ida., Oct. 24.—The defense in the trial of Mrs. Lydia Southard, alleged "bluebeardness" opened today. Over 50 witnesses have been subpoenaed to appear in Mrs. Southard's defense. Whether Mrs. Southard will take the stand in her own behalf, continued to be the principal point of speculation in the trial. Although Mrs. Southard's attorneys have held two long conferences on the subject, it was authoritatively learned that they are still undecided in the matter. Mrs. Southard is said to be anxious to take the stand, but her attorneys are known to have serious doubts as to whether her case can be benefited by this procedure, which would subject her to a severe cross examination by the prosecution.

UNUSUAL RAINFALL
 HERE SUNDAY PUTS
 SEASON NEAR INCH

Precipitation Was General Over State. Snow in Sierra Nevadas

Sunday, the second rain of the season, swept over Glendale and increased the total rainfall to .95. This continued throughout the entire day until about 5 o'clock, the weather cleared and the sun appeared for a few minutes. The rain gauge showed that .23 of an inch fell during the storm. Rain was general in the state, San Francisco and the San Joaquin Valley being the only points passed by the storm. Six inches of snow fell at Summit. At this time last year .06 of an inch had fallen in Glendale as compared with .95 of an inch. Last night the weather bureau stated that while conditions are unsettled not much more rain could be expected from this storm. Following the rain the temperature took a decided drop all over the Southland.

LLOYD GEORGE SAYS
 MUST BE 'YES OR NO'

LONDON, Oct. 24.—The message of Eamonn De Valera to Pope Benedict was a "grave challenge," Premier Lloyd George declared in a speech before the house of commons today. "We do not propose to recede from the government's position," he said. Referring to the British demand for a "yes or no" answer from De Valera as to whether Ireland intends to recognize the sovereignty of the king, the premier said: "The conference cannot proceed on any other basis."

TOURISTS BEGIN TO COME FROM EAST

"It looks as though the winter influx of tourists from the east has started," said Mr. Hamilton of the Smith-Barcock-Hamilton company, 204 East Broadway, this morning. "There are more calls for our right now than there has been for weeks. Most of these are coming from people who are just coming to Glendale, principally from the east, and in practically every instance the purchasers expect to build homes on their new purchases. The calls for homes, too, are increasing daily. In fact, it looks to us as though the winter rush is on."

STRIKE MAY BE AVOIDED SAYS
 WASHINGTON

Railway Labor Board Sees Plan to Halt Railroad Workers

INJUNCTION TALKED

Brotherhood Say They Can Tie Up Roads By Themselves

(By United Press)
 Hope for averting the threatened rail strike grew today. Belief that the strike would be halted was expressed by the railroad labor board in an official statement. The sentiment was backed by unofficial expression at Washington, where Attorney General Daugherty conferred with district attorneys. It was understood injunctions in case of a strike were discussed. Despite the fact that other railroad unions have declined to join them in a strike, and that officials of the American Federation of Labor oppose a strike at this time, chiefs of the five big brotherhoods in Cleveland, went ahead with preparations for a walkout, declaring they alone could tie up transportation.

WOMEN SHRIEK WHEN
 MRS. CAMPBELL'S
 LIFE IS BARED

Alleged Murderess Tells of Past Life With Man She Recently Killed

SANTA ANA, Oct. 24.—Women shrieked and fainted in Superior Judge Williamson's court here today when Mrs. May Campbell, in a few tense and dramatic moments on the witness stand, told why she had killed her husband, Jeff V. Campbell. So vivid was the woman's description of the manner in which her husband was alleged to have tortured her with constant harking back to her past, that her sister, Mrs. David Garvey, shrieked wildly and fell unconscious. On the witness stand, Mrs. Campbell sobbed out her story of the events which led up to the shooting of Jeff Campbell in a tent at Balboa on the night of June 27. A tall girl rose from among the spectators, her face ghastly, and rushed with the men who were carrying Mrs. Garvey. "It's too terrible—too terrible!" Mrs. Campbell wailed from the witness stand. The court, however, insisted that the woman continue her testimony. With shortened breath and fingering a string of rosary beads, she choked out a sordid story of her former life as common law wife of a San Francisco man who rose from cowboy to millionaire while she lived with him, of how he had cast her off, of her subsequent marriage to Campbell, his alleged drunkenly brutal mistreatment of her, and the culminating tragedy at Balboa Beach, when she shot the man to death.

MORE DELAY SEEN
 ARBUCKLE CASE

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 24.—Further delay in the prosecution of Roscoe Arbuckle for manslaughter in connection with the death of Virginia Rappe appeared probably today. Defense attorneys announced that when the trial is called November 7, they will ask for a continuance of at least one week. District Attorney Matthew Brady, prosecuting Arbuckle, said he would not oppose such a continuance. Charles Brennan of Arbuckle's counsel, will leave here tomorrow for Chicago to take the depositions of Dr. Maurice Rosenberg of Chicago and of two nurses, said to have treated Miss Rappe for kidney trouble in 1917. The defense claims to have information that Miss Rappe was warned by the physician that her life was uncertain unless she used extreme care in the preservation of her health.

JEWEL ROBBERY IS NEWS TO POLICE

According to reports published in the newspapers of Los Angeles the home of Mrs. A. Goulding, 546 North Maryland avenue, North Glendale, was robbed on October 11 of jewelry valued at $6000. The matter was not reported to the police until Friday, according to the report in the Los Angeles papers, because Mrs. Goulding had been away from home. The report stated that Los Angeles detectives, Cline and Shy, were working on the case. Chief of Police Martin stated that no report had been made to the police and that the first intimation that he had that such a robbery was committed was the story in the Los Angeles papers. No reason can be given for reporting such a robbery to the police of Los Angeles who have no jurisdiction in Glendale or their investigation of a robbery in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray and two daughters, of Long Beach, were the Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Peckham, 615 North Central avenue.

CITY PARK GREAT NEED IN GLENDALE

According to Mrs. M. L. Tight, one of Glendale's prominent real estate dealers, one big need of the city is a central breathing spot or public park. Speaking of need for such a park Mrs. Tight said:

"One of the best locations in the city for such a park is the present site of the Glendale sanitarium and hospital. Of course this site would be costly but it is by far the most beautiful and practical location for such a park. My idea would be to lay out the present grounds into a park site and erect a public library in the center. The best advertisement that a city can have is a pretty park in the center of the town. The grounds are beautiful and a credit to the city. With a library in the center and benches on the grounds this could be turned into one of the prettiest municipal parks in Southern California."

"Glendale is the only town in the southland that has no park and I think it is a shame that Glendale has no place for the visitor to spend a few hours in rest and recreation."

SALES LARGE IN PAST FOUR WEEKS

One hundred and twenty thousand dollars in property sales in the last four weeks shows that the realty firm of Kelly & Van Arsdol, 106 West Colorado boulevard, has been doing anything but "sit on the job." Calls for both residence and business property during the last few weeks have been brisk, says this firm, and prospects are that the coming winter will be one of the most active, if not the most active winter realty seasons ever known in Glendale. More and bigger buyers are coming every day.

The following sales, made by this company, are convincing: Ten acres on West Broadway, $28,000; 150 feet, Colorado and Orange, $15,000; 75 feet, North Brand, $15,000; corner South Brand and Garfield, $12,900; 50 feet, North Brand, $10,500; 100 feet, North Brand, $7,800; 340 West Burchett, $6,850; corner Everett and Colorado, $5,999; 649 Alexander street, $3,500; southwest corner, Elk and Central, $4,000; 2 lots, Randolph street, $3,400; 638 West Doran street, $3,200; lot on East Lomita, $2,000; lot on Ross street, $1,800; lot on Pioneer Drive, $1,600.

FIGHT FILM

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 24.—Jack Brehany, a motion-picture film distributor, was indicted by the Federal grand jury on a charge of transporting films of the Dempsey-Carpenter fight from New York to San Francisco, in violation of the law prohibiting interstate shipments of that character.

RAILWAY MEN TO STRIKE

The announcement in Chicago by W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, that a strike would begin on October 30, following the threat of a wage reduction, came as a distinct shock to official Washington. Officials were chary of comment, but the impression prevails that the administration would act before permitting a nation-wide industrial warfare to be inaugurated on the eve of the International Armament Conference, and while the movement of the winter fuel is at its height. The labor committee is composed of Mr. Lee, Warren S. Stone, president of the Locomotive Engineers; L. E. Sheppard, president of the Order of Railway Conductors; W. S. Carter, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, and P. C. Cashen, president of the Switchmen's Union of America.

JUDGE COX TAKES RAP BRIDGE WHIST

SANTA ANA, Oct. 24.—J. B. Cox, justice of the peace of Santa Ana, is being patted on the back by certain groups of women, while others severely criticize him for remarks made in a public address in which he arraigned players of bridge whist. Declaring that he thinks just as much of "female bridge" as of stud poker as played by Mexicans, Judge Cox poured hot shots into the ranks of women card players in an address before the Men's Club at Orange.

"Bridge is a violation of moral laws and stud poker is a violation of both moral and statute laws," said the judge. "One is countenanced by society and condoned by officers. The other is neither countenanced nor condoned. One hides behind the cloak of society. The Mexican who gambles knows that he violates the law and takes the consequences when caught by officers. Society card games for prizes is wrong."

Cox also reiterated his statements that motorists should be compelled to pass a moral, mental and physical examination before being given license to operate a motor.

RODEO WILL BE A PART OF REUNION

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 24.—A rodeo, which will rival the famous annual round-up at Cheyenne, Wyo., will be one of the features of entertainment during the third annual national convention of the American Legion the last of this month.

Grover Metzger Post will stage the big frontier day spectacle and twelve events will be on the daily program. Many of the most famous riders and ropers of the West will participate. To "bulldoze" a steer from an automobile will be among the thrillers, and other events will include fancy roping, wild steer riding, bucking broncho stunts and rope-tying contests.

Many of the convention visitors from the East have never witnessed a typical western rodeo, and they will see feats performed by riders of the open range which will make "Wild West" trick exhibitions seem tame in comparison.

QUIT MEAT WHEN KIDNEYS BOTHER

Take a Glass of Salts if Your Back Hurts or Bladder Troubles You

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

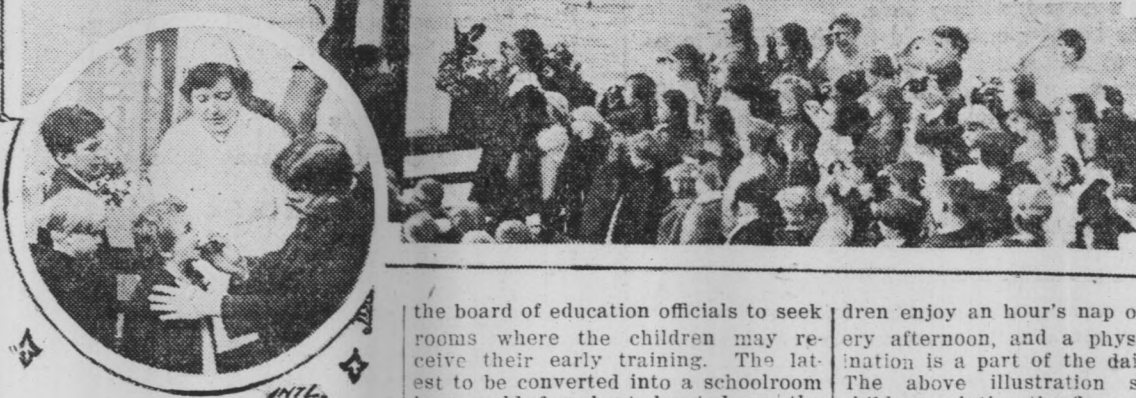

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acids of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acid in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

Women Will Lift Voices At Parley to Bring Wars to End

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—The President's armament conference will hear from the women.

Women in the Far East, women in Europe, women throughout the world, will make their demands known. Through world-wide demonstrations they will lift their voices in a mighty clamor for an end of war.

A "Battalion of Death" is now mobilizing to descend on the conference. DESCEND ON CAPITAL

Thousands of women, representing every section of the country, will descend on Washington, each with the avowed intention to keep up a deadly barrage of "nagging" until the conference takes action assuring future world peace.

Already more than a dozen national women's organizations are at work on plans to "camp on" the conference and "nag" the distinguished delegates into action.

There is even talk of picketing the conference. Gold Star Mothers and disabled veterans on the picket line—this is among the plans under consideration.

Most of the organizations will be satisfied with a program calling for limitation of armaments. A few demand complete disarmament and nothing less.

WATCHDOG OF CONFERENCE
The Women's World Disarmament committee, the first in action, calls itself the "watchdog" of the conference.

"This conference must be the people's conference," says Miss Emma Wold, chairman of the committee. "It is fast degenerating into anything but a Disarmament Conference."

"It is up to the people to see that disarmament comes out of it. We can do it if we really want disarmament. We must express this gripping, heartfelt desire in a demand which cannot be pushed aside by questions of the Far East, or any other questions."

HUGE DEMONSTRATION
All the big women's organizations of the country will take part in the nation-wide demonstration planned by the National Women's Trade Union League, representing 600,000 women, most of them organized women from the trade-union ranks. The league will work with the International Congress of Working Women, which meets in Geneva October 17. Plans for an international demonstration call for mass meetings and parades by women throughout the world on Armistice Day. At the mass meetings the women's demands will be drafted into a platform for submission to the President's Conference.

The National League of Women Voters is working through the clearing house recently organized here with all organizations active in the cause of disarmament represented. Mrs. Gifford Pinchot, wife of the Roosevelt leader and former head of the Forestry Bureau, heads the activities of this clearing house. It will "co-operate" with the Administration, it announces, and has elaborate plans to get information of the conference out to the public. Different phases of the conference will be interpreted by experts, whose articles will be sent broadcast.

WOMEN ON COMMITTEES
Though none of the nine countries as yet has designated a woman to sit in the conference, President Harding has announced that two women will have places on the prominent advisory committees.

On the outside looking in, the women intend to make their voices heard in an emphatic manner. Their attack will be "dignified but determined," they announce.

It is no secret that the activities of the women have aroused not a little uneasiness in White House circles. "We want no pussy-footing or gumshoe methods," say the women leaders.

Privately the Administration leaders express fear that the woman host the board of education officials to seek rooms where the children may receive their early training. The latest to be converted into a schoolroom is an old ferryboat located on the East River. The course of study is the same as that of the regular schools, but the ferryboat youngsters enjoy privilege not extended to pupils in the modern schoolhouses. Lunch is served aboard the boat; the children enjoy an hour's nap on deck every afternoon, and a physical examination is a part of the daily routine. The above illustration shows the children saluting the flag on the stern of the ferryboat at the start of the school day. Dr. E. W. Lawrence examining some of the students, and the children enjoying their nap, and a few of the children enjoying their five-course meal.

CAN'T BUY BOOKS TO STUDY THEOLOGY

BERLIN, Oct. 24.—"Berlin University theological students in many cases cannot afford to buy even a Greek and Hebrew testament," said Professor Adolph von Harnack, noted theological leader, formerly advisor of the Kaiser and head of the Berlin University. He is the celebrated author of the "History of Dogma."

"A Greek testament costs about thirty-five cents in American money at the present time, and it may seem strange to you that students cannot afford to make this small outlay of money. Theological students can manage to get their food and lodging, but books are more difficult. The American Quakers are feeding a great many of our students."

"Many can buy their Bibles, but we need about one hundred Greek and one hundred Hebrew testaments for the poorer students. Poverty in Germany to-day is not to be found in the so-called slums or tenements, but in the homes which before the war were called comfortable middle-class. For instance, a school teacher in the graded schools is paid in American money at the present time about $200 a year. A high school teacher or college professor gets no more than $300."

"You ask how they live? There are never any new clothes; food is of the simplest—bread, soup, of a thin sort and occasionally sausage as a delicacy. As far as music, opera and theater are concerned, they have long since been forgotten."

WIFE AGREEABLE TO BEATING UP

COLUMBUS, Oct. 24.—Louis Cornatelli got off comparatively easy when arraigned before Municipal Judge Osborn on a charge of wife beating.

Louis' wife testified she didn't care how much he beat her. Placing Louis on probation, with a thirty-day suspended workhouse sentence, the judge informed him that he must quit mistreating Mrs. Cornatelli, "even if she doesn't object."

CAPITAL SOCIETY GOES IN BUSINESS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—Washington society is all upset. Right on the eve of the arms parley and the biggest season in history, certain members of the innermost circle of the residential set, that inscrutable group which official society and the diplomatic corps have never been able to penetrate, have surrendered to commercialism. The story was spilled by a horrified matron who exclaimed to an acquaintance:

"Why, they have actually gone in for trade, my dear! Just think of it! It all came about when an 'all society' store was opened under the corporate name of the 'Francise.' Everybody from the manager to the bundle wrapper is well known in Washington society."

At first it appeared to those who saw the names of those identified with the enterprise that it was a benefit for something or other, but it was not.

The store, for store it is, was opened in the house given by a grateful people to Admiral Dewey as a residence. The Admiral deeded it to his wife, shortly after he received the gift, and his wife sold it.

Now it is a shop devoted to the sale of infants', children's and school-girls' clothing.

Mrs. Joseph Leiter is described as the backer of the enterprise, although the names of Mrs. Ormsby McCammon and Mrs. Charles O'Donnell Lee appear as proprietors. Mrs. McCammon, nee Estelle Murray of Philadelphia, is saleswoman. Mrs. Lee is manager, and they are assisted by a bevy of girls, all prominent.

CACTUS THORNS ARE MAN'S DOWNFALL

ESTANCIA, N. M., Oct. 24.—Cactus thorns caused Francisco Biza and Carlos Renteria to confess to the murder of J. C. Courcy, of Duran, N. M., according to Sheriff John Block, who has returned here with his prisoners following their capture by a posse with bloodhounds.

After bloodhounds had picked up the trail of the men the posse following the alleged assassins came to a cactus bush which had been trampled upon.

"If we can find a man with cactus thorns in his legs we have our prisoners," declared Sheriff Block.

Biza and Renteria were captured shortly afterward, and when confronted with the "cactus thorn" evidence they are said to have confessed.

STAYED IN WATER TO EVADE POLICE

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 24.—Escaping from a guard amid a shower of bullets, John Dawson, a marine held for alleged forgery of a $1,500 money order, fled to a lily pond and jumped into the cold water, where he remained for two hours, concealing his head with a huge lily. He finally gave up his submarine stunt and was captured by a searching party of marines.

Thoughts To Think About—

Cheerfulness is the oil of gladness which lubricates life's machinery.

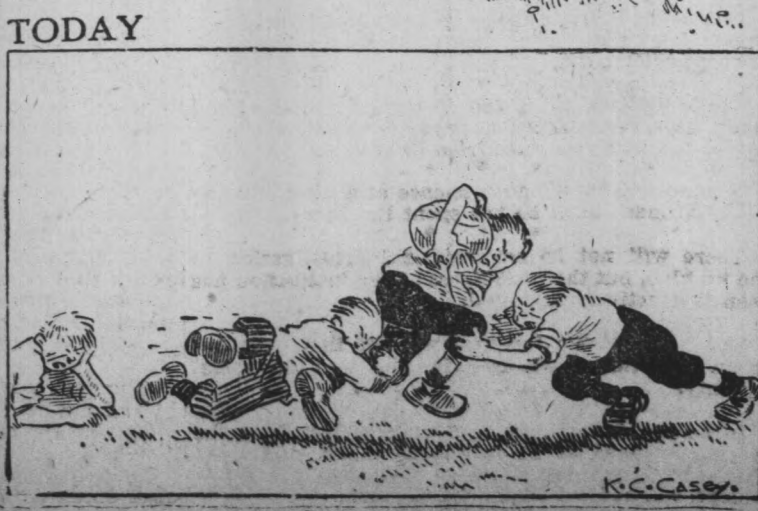

Success is the result of character multiplied by intelligent activity.

Results in Classified Advertising comes in proportion to the number of readers—The Press is read by the best people in the city—nearly everybody in Glendale reads the Glendale Daily Press.

Anger succumbs to a soft reply like a troubled sea to a little strand—only froth and shells remain.

Knowledge is the sequence of things learned by experience; it is common sense classified.

Truths in Epigram

Error is the force that welds men together; truth is communicated to men only by deeds of truth.—Tolstoi (1828-1910).

True love is like ghosts, which everybody talks about and few have seen.—La Rochefoucauld (1623-1680).

OPPORTUNITIES

Wherever a city has grown, people who have watched it develop, are conscious of many lost opportunities. They will tell of the corner where the million dollar bank stands, and the chance they once had to own that corner for the price of a pair of boots. Or perhaps they had been offered the lot for a saddle. In instances the unregenerate owner of an earlier time had been known to try to swap the property for a drink.

Not long ago certain lots near Long Beach were "thrown in" as an inducement to the purchase of a set of encyclopedias which were in the market at $120. On the installment plan at that. Perhaps the buyers got their money's worth in books. Anyhow, if they held on to the lots they now are haughtily spurning the proffer of large sums, or they are drawing down royalties. There was oil below the surface. The hidden reservoir has been tapped. It is spouting prosperity for somebody.

But the element of chance is not the factor to be considered.

Perhaps there is no other region in the United States growing so fast as this part of California. Cities are gaining metropolitan size. Towns are changing into cities. Suburban communities are spreading until they meet and merge.

Opportunities are larger and more numerous than ever. People look at the past, but decline to judge the future by it. A decade hence they will be repeating the old story of how, along in '21, they might have bought for a song, property that would have brought them independent fortune.

"See that bank?" they will say to a stranger. "Well, once I could have traded a second hand automobile for the site. Worth about a million now."

ENGLAND'S LABOR SITUATION

Lloyd George has told the commons that orders have been placed for four capital ships. There are several reasons why the news is surprising.

In the first place there has been an understanding that pause had been given to naval construction there in view of the approaching disarmament conference. The British labor situation is the worst with which the present generation has had to contend. Close upon two millions are out of work. Half of the population is actually receiving government aid. The wealthy class feel crushed under the burden of taxation. Many landed estates have been sold because the titled owners were not able to retain them. They had become luxuries not to be afforded. Capital ships cost vast sums.

It is possible that one purpose in ordering the work now is to lessen the prevailing unemployment. Public work often is undertaken in advance of the time the product may be utilized. In this manner the spirit of discontent is allayed, and workers permitted to earn their bread instead of having it doled out to them.

One easily might imagine public work of a more useful and beneficent sort than the construction of battleships. The building of highways and canals, for example, of which the effect would be good and permanent. As the choice has fallen to battleships instead, the inference is natural, whether or not it is just, that England, whatever its desire for world peace, does not expect the immediate arrival of such condition.

THE TRUTH ABOUT RUSSIA

The one great truth about Russia acceptable to all is that the truth about Russia is difficult to obtain. The accounts that come vary so widely that it is often impossible to believe any absolutely.

One Vanderlip goes to that country and comes out singing its praises, his pockets bulging with contracts. The contracts prove to be worthless. By common consent the praises go into the same category. Senator France pays a visit to Russia, and his voice, at first a feeble echo of Vanderlip's, dies away, not having carried conviction.

H. G. Wells inspected Russia. He went there an admirer of the bolsheviks and he came away with the admiration effaced. Yet he did not feel competent to portray the situation as he found it. Save for his indicated change of sentiment, he throws no light. In his "Outlines of History" Wells is more specific as to the neolithic age, than as to Russia, 1919 A. D.

An American prisoner just released from Russia declares the belief that there have been twenty millions of deaths directly due to bolshevik rule. American agencies in that country in behalf of charity tell of millions more doomed to die of starvation, of sterile fields and desolated villages, and hopeless folk who die in the highway.

Lenine making a speech, as reported by the Associated Press, boasts of soviet triumphs. "The soviet regime is the maximum of democracy for peasants and workers," he says. "We have given the world a new type of democracy, namely a proletarian dictatorship. The most difficult of our tasks has been the rebuilding of our economic structure, but we are going ahead."

Meanwhile the members of the proletariat have no money, no work, no food. The economic structure lies a crumbled ruin. The peasant sows no grain, lacking the seed, and his lands are fallow, never again promising a crop.

And for four years the malign tyranny headed by Lenine has kept Russia in its grasp!

UNEXPLAINED CRIMES

A grand jury has censured a New York city paper for having published a list of "unsolved murder mysteries." It alleges that the list is in great part "false and untrue." This is a singular situation.

In New York city are frequent murders. So many of them remain unsolved that an imposing list might be made without appending a single case to be classified as "false and untrue." In this respect New York does not differ particularly from other centers of population. Chicago and Philadelphia also have crimson records. In each place such mystery as may be constituted of an unexplained murder is common. Coming nearer home, the charges that New York resents and the grand jury condemns, may with justice be made against the metropolis of California.

Perhaps there is a misunderstanding of terms. Ordinarily the solution of a murder mystery involves discovery of the perpetrator, the disclosure of his purpose and methods, and in instances, even his punishment. The only really satisfactory solution must lie in the placing of the guilt where it belongs. But if the police regard murder as an incident too common to be worth solving, something to be taken for granted as part of the history of the day, they thus wipe the slate clean. They may look upon the demand for detailed explanation as an impertinence.

A glance over police records will show that of the murders less than half result in arrest. When such a crime occurs it is mentioned in the news. If the victim was a person of standing, news value may cling to his name until after the funeral. Then the whole matter be dropped and virtually forgotten.

It is not surprising that a New York journal should have gone over the files and presented a resume of homicidal activities. It would be surprising if it could not make the showing impressive enough by citing facts, and not introducing the element of fiction.

Happily scientists are not called upon to explain the moon. They do not believe this themselves. They have been telling anew lately the tale of how, when the earth was whirling more rapidly than at present, it sloughed the moon, as a revolving wheel throws mud. They have not advanced proof yet.

Reports are received that a German electric gun can fire 2000 shots a minute. Also that the recent terrific explosion at Oppau was due to experimentation with war material. For a nation that has laid down its arms and turned to development of industries, this is an odd side-line of activity.

Women are said to be organizing for the purpose of "nagging" the disarmament conference into establishing world peace, by means of a resolution, perhaps. Doubtless women exercise a mighty influence. They could find no quicker method of destroying it than by the proposed "nagging."

IT TAKES A GENERATION

By Dr. Frank Crane.

The real reason why the United States of America abandon its allies at the close of the war, would have nothing to do with the movement toward world unity, as represented by the League of Nations, and gave itself up to a sulky and selfish isolation, is that the proposed step was too great for a thorough democracy to make.

Other nations moved fast because they are accustomed to being led by their rulers. America moves slow because it moves only as pushed by its masses.

It is not the Lodges, Harveys, Borahs and Reeds, who, to accomplish selfish ends, manipulated the great reactionary crime, it is not these who are primarily to blame. All efforts would not have been fruitless except they had a mass of popular prejudice, ignorance, and inertia to work on.

We will take our place among the nations of the world, but it will take a generation.

It took a generation for Americans to pull entirely free from monarchy. The people of the colonies, though they fought England, were yet salted with monarchic ideas. It was only afterward that George Cooche could say:

"But the condition of affairs is now changed. The generation trained to obedience under monarchical institutions is extinct; a race occupies the field which has been reared under the full influence of democracy."

The great new thought in the world today is World Unity, just as the great new thought in Washington's day was Democracy.

This idea was born into full vigor during the war. The nations had to get together or perish before the attack of Germany.

And they realize now in Europe that they have to stay together if they would avoid other evils. Russia and red madness confronts them.

Bankruptcy and economic disaster threaten them; and the only remedy for that will be some sort of economic unity, even as military unity was imperative in 1917.

The United States will get around to it when this generation has died off.

For their children are growing up in an atmosphere of World Councils.

Democracies move slowly, and usually very uncomfortably. As Fisher Ames stated:

"A monarchy is like a merchantman. You get on board and ride the wind and tide in safety and elation, but, by and by, you strike a reef and go down. But democracy is like a raft. You never sink, but, damn it, your feet are always in the water."

It took a generation for the New South to get away from the prejudices and passions of the Old South.

It has taken a generation for many an American in the North to realize that the Civil War is over.

It will take a generation to establish Prohibition. We need not wonder if it takes a generation for America to get hold of the idea of World Unity.

THE LISTENING POST

The three things.
The real necessities of existence.
Some of us grow to think there are many necessities of existence.

As our method and manner of living grow more complex and complicated.

Every day adds to the things that we come to believe necessary to life with happiness and comfort. The motor car for instance. A very few years ago it was a luxury. An unusual vehicle possessed by the few.

And with the lapse of a score of years it has come to be a usual vehicle of which the number in the country runs into the millions. Enough motor cars in the United States nearly to carry the whole population with a little crowding.

And business has been so adjusted to rapid locomotion that it would be difficult to readjust it to the old horse-and-buggy basis.

The business man would find it difficult to go back to the old methods of transit.

The physician would find professional calls difficult if not impossible. The minister would find it hard to go about among his flock.

We are enabled to do more things with rapid transit. Whether we do them as well is another question. But at least we cover more territory.

And are able to attend more meetings and see more country.

In future years historians and students will devote many pages to things that have affected civilization in the time in which we now live.

And the things they will refer to most often will probably be the motor car.

The apartment house.

The "movie."

But these are not the three things we intended to speak of here. Because none of them is a necessary of life. We could live without any one of them.

Although our method of living would be different.

Probably you will have guessed the three necessities of life.

The three things without which life could not exist at all.

Whether animal life, plant life or the minutest forms of cellular life.

But we will set them down, even if you have already guessed them.

And the three things are:

Food.

Heat.

Light.

Simple enough to be sure.

The physical life of man cannot be sustained without any one of the three.

Or without all of the three.

For the body must be fed.

Warmed.

Lighted.

Plant life cannot be sustained without the three.

For the plant must be fed.

Warmed.

Lighted.

The spiritual life of men cannot be sustained without the three.

For the spirits of men must be fed.

Warmed.

Lighted.

The spirits of men must be fed with ideals.

Warmed with enthusiasm.

Lighted with purpose.

And some captious people will say that we need darkness in which to sleep.

But darkness is not a thing at all.

Darkness is merely the absence of light.

Spiritual darkness is merely the absence of light.

And we may have darkness in the room any time at all merely by shutting out the light.

So the necessities of life are very few after all. We need only simple fare to sustain the strength.

The warmth of sun to cheer and encourage.

And the light by which to see our way onward and upward.

And any one of us may go forward and achieve victory.

SATURDAY WAS BUSY DAY FOR JUDGE IN SPEED CASES

Over Hundred Were Before His Honor on Motor Car Violations

Saturday was a busy day with Judge Cruzan. In fact Saturday has been a very busy day in the city police court for the past several weeks. And all this hustle and bustle is due to the fact that Eagle Rock has decided to curb the speed demon who strikes the boulevard leading through this little city. There were 107 cases on Judge Cruzan's calendar, 75 of which alleged offenders appeared in person and told their story to the judge. The morning session was very interesting and in fact well worth the time of the morbidly inclined, who takes delight in hearing hard luck stories and long explanations and arguments on the whys and wherefores of the frailties of humanity. One offender seemed to voice the sentiment of the majority when he explained: "I didn't think I was making over 20 miles an hour, so smooth is the road and so, inviting the surroundings," but that didn't go and he drew a $10 fine. The fines ranged from $5 to $25, depending upon the speed of the offenders. Excuses do not go with Judge Cruzan—if the ar-

SUNDAY SCHOOL IS LANDED IN WALCOTT

DAVENPORT, Ia., Oct. 24.—News of the establishment of the first Sunday school in Walcott, Ia., 12 miles from Davenport, was received here today. Although a prosperous town, Walcott, since its founding 50 years ago, has never supported or tolerated a church.

"We always have peace, loyalty and order in our town without churches and we don't want this spirit disturbed," One leading citizen said in explanation.

Until a few years ago Walcott was the wealthiest town per capita in the nation.

resting officer turns the offender in at 30 miles he must pay a fine of $10 regardless of explanations. Of course, the speeder could ask a jury trial, but really it doesn't pay; the best thing to do is to pay up.

The judicial mill will start grinding again promptly at 10:30 next Saturday morning, and the accumulation of new cases will be fully as large as last week. Friday and Saturday more than a dozen were "pulled" for speeding.

The jail sentence is imposed when the speeder is caught at the 45 mile mark. Judge Cruzan says there will be no exception to this rule, and that any man or woman caught making 45 miles will go to jail.

At Convention—Mrs. C. M. Crist and the members of her Sunday school class attended the national J. O. C. convention at Huntington Park on Friday.

BORROWED FUNDS TO START SNAKE TOWN DOWN IN TEXAS

Wm. King Assembles Fortune in Live Wild Regular Snakes

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Oct. 24.—Down on the Mexican border, within a stone's throw of Brownsville, is a prosperous little village with a population running into the thousands that had its start on a borrowed $10 bill. There are no traffic cops on the streets and Sunday is just as good as any other day in this unusual little municipality.

Another unusual feature of the peculiar little town is the fact that there are only a few human beings counted among its population of thousands and that very few of these speak English.

Snakeville, Texas, is the town and the man who founded it, William A. King, is popularly known as the Snake King.

Here is the story of how the municipality of Snakeville sprang from a borrowed $10 bill.

TIME TO SETTLE DOWN
Twenty years ago William King, having wandered three times around the globe in various capacities from able seaman and stevedore to common laborer, decided that it was time to settle down and take a more serious outlook upon life.

Being more or less of a naturalist by instinct, and his world wanderings having further developed this tendency, he decided on the job of supplying circuses and zoos with wild animals as a profession.

With ten cents in his pocket he borrowed a $10 bill for one month at the rate of $1 interest and began his career. With the borrowed money in his pocket he sauntered down the sleepy main street of Brownsville and purchased a fine specimen of a bull snake from a Mexican peon who had just captured it in the foothills back of Matamoros, Mexico. He sold it almost immediately to an eastern zoo and the snake king was launched upon his business career.

18,000 REPTILES
From the bull snake purchased from the Mexican peon King's collection has grown until now the town of Snakeville boasts of a population of 18,000 reptiles, to say nothing of the various species of parrots, monkeys, lizards, lions and other beasts. Sooner or later every known species become inhabitants of Snakeville and remain residents of the various concrete houses and runways until sold.

At the present time the business has grown so that King has seven animal-buying stations throughout Mexico and South America.

DEATH RECORDS IN LONDON HOLDS TOP

LONDON, Oct. 24.—That Londoners may look forward to an average life span of eighty years is the dictum of the chief medical officer of health, Dr. William H. Hamer.

He bases his opinion on the fact that during 1920 the birth rate increased 8.2 per 1000 while the death rate, the record lowest, was only 12.6 for the whole county of London, an area containing over 7,000,000 people. Infants' deaths were also the lowest on record, being 76 per thousand, four points below the figure for the whole of England and Wales and nine below the New York figures.

"These phenomenal general and infantile death rates," says Dr. Hamer in his annual report, "must give pause to those who advocate, on grounds of health, a return to the land."

"A death rate of 12.6 if it were possible to maintain it at that level for a series of years would entail an average duration of life for the four-score years deemed some thousands of years ago to be attainable only 'by reason of strength.'"

JAP VICE ADMIRAL TELLS JAPS TO STICK

HONOLULU, T. H., Oct. 24.—Vice Admiral Saito, of the Imperial Japanese Navy, commanding the training cruisers Idzumo and Yokumo, in an address before several hundred of his countrymen here urged them to give up thoughts of returning to Japan and to strive instead to make themselves a permanent part of Hawaii. He said that only by taking this attitude and working with the Americans for the betterment of the community could the Japanese show their gratitude toward America for giving them homes in this Paradise of the Pacific.

POET ON TRIAL

Linn A. E. Gale, alleged slacker, photographed at Governor's Island, New York, where he is being tried before a courtmartial charged with desertion, encouraging resistance to the draft and publishing articles glorifying desertion from the army. Gale, a former Albany N. Y., newspaperman, fled to Mexico during the war. He published a magazine in Mexico City, and recently was expelled from the country as an undesirable. Gale was arrested by the military authorities at Laredo, Tex. Several poems he is alleged to have written attacking the Government and the war were read into the record.

TWO NEW BUILDINGS FOR EAGLE ROCK IS BELDAM'S PLAN

Big Demand for Stores Continues to Invite New Buildings

George Beldam is making preparations to start two new store buildings in the 700 block on East Colorado. The buildings will be of stucco material, and will accommodate at least two lines of business.

The east side is to have a new bakery, and it will likely occupy one of these stores. The demand for more stores has far exceeded the supply, and it is said a half dozen lines of business are waiting to start up just as soon as store room can be had.

There is no let-up to building of homes. The Charles Guthrie office has sold four lots on Hartwick and Harlan to a Chicago man, who will erect several bungalows for rent. Other lots and acreage are being taken up for building purposes.

SEA SERPENT YARN HEARD WITH YAWN

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 24.—The old salts down at Los Angeles harbor, who have sailed the Seven Seas and then some, are discussing a yarn that was related by members of the crew of the Viv Four, fishing smack, on their arrival here from near Santa Rosa Flats.

"Oh, by gee! by gum! by gosh!" exclaimed the ancient mariners, when the fishermen told this tale. That when the Viv Four left Santa Rosa a strange creature was noticed floating about the ship. It was about eight feet long, weighed at least 500 pounds, had bulging eyes and blond hair. One of the crew wanted to get a rifle to fire on the sea giant, but the skipper demurred, and, after swimming about a little while longer, the creature sank beneath the waves.

"I'll admit I've seen some queer things in my time," said one salt, "but I never did see anything of this kind, even B. P. (a nautical term for before prohibition). But some awful queer things happen in California and along its coast."

UNITED STATES IS OWNER OF 'AMERICA'

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—The United States Navy has just bought one of the most famous boats in the world. It cost the Government $1. The historic yacht America, first winner of the cup from England, is now a navy ship. Through the generous co-operation of a number of patriotic men, including Secretary of War Weeks, the old yacht has been rescued from her old berth at Boston, where she rested for years, reconditioned, and towed down the coast by a sub-chaser to the Naval Academy at Annapolis. Here she was presented to the Navy by Charles Francis Adams, skipper of the Resolute, on behalf of the Eastern Yacht Club of Boston. Rear Admiral Henry B. Wilson officially received the boat for the Navy. The trip was made under the command of William U. Swan.

The plan originally was to present the boat to the Navy. The Navy, however, is not allowed to receive a gift, accordingly the department purchased the boat by paying $1.

HOME BREWING IS STILL DANGEROUS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—Home brewing that violates the Volstead law will be stopped. That is Prohibition Commissioner Haynes' position respecting his recent anti-home brew order, as he stated it to the United Press today in an interview.

"My job," said Haynes, "is to stop everything the Volstead law says is illegal. I am going to do that to the utmost of my power. I know efforts will be made in the courts and elsewhere to overturn the order recently issued for preventing the sale of articles advertised for use in home brewing. But you may safely assume that when those efforts are made we will be prepared to meet them."

FOUND HIS PANTS BAKERSFIELD STORE

BAKERSFIELD, Cal., Oct. 24.—"Those are my pants," exclaimed J. V. Dugovitch, snatching up a pair from a pile of reclaimed army breeches in a local drygood store.

"Only a dollar," informed a clerk. "But they're mine already, see!" Dugovitch turned back the waistband and displayed his name printed in more than one place with an indelible pencil. He had lost these pants, he explained, over five years ago when he was in the 315th cavalry stationed at Fort Sill, Okla.

They had been stolen, he said, together with his roll of $170, and a private suspected of the theft had been sentenced to serve three years as a result. Meanwhile Dugovitch had come to work in the Bakersfield oil fields, and had come to the store in search of a cheap pair of breeches. The manager of the store said the pants had come in a consignment direct from New York, but made Dugovitch a present of them.

SCORES OF ARRESTS BY DRY FORCES SOON

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—Scores of arrests and the closing of nine distilleries in Maryland, Kentucky, Ohio and Pennsylvania, will be made within the next few days, it was stated at the office of Prohibition Commissioner Haynes today. Haynes said that many wealthy bootleggers are to be taken in Baltimore, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, possibly Chicago and a number of small eastern cities.

COST OF BATTERY
SERVICE REDUCED

Twenty per cent reduction in battery service charges has just been put into effect by the Auto Electric Company, corner Colorado boulevard and Brand. This company has been able to take the initiative in reducing the cost of battery service through an increased volume of business and the effective way in which the work is handled, since the remodeling of this company's complete establishment.

The price of battery parts and the Willard battery, for which this firm is the agent in Glendale, have also been reduced. This, with the announced reduction in battery service, brings the cost of battery maintenance down to where the ordinary man does not consider it a burden. E. W. Cizek and Henry M. Kuhn constitute the Auto Electric Company.

MANY COMPLIMENT
BATTERY STATION

"There is hardly a day goes by that we do not receive congratulations from our customers on the convenient design of the Westinghouse Battery Service Station, recently opened on Brand boulevard near Colorado. 'Lady drivers, especially, comment on our front platform, where the majority of our battery service is given, and which was designed to go away with the jam and confusion of the inside service station.' When asked the reason for the firm's large amount of business in such a short time, he said: 'Everyone knows Westinghouse and their goods. We simply live up to their policies, and when we find a man in trouble we put ourselves in his shoes. It doesn't make any difference to us what battery a man has, we treat them all alike and everyone is satisfied.'

OIL STATION OPENS
HERE SATURDAY

A strictly modern oil station was opened Saturday at 1600 South San Fernando road by B. G. Jackson, who erected and owns the building. There are three aero pumps in this station, two being for gasoline and the other for oil, this oil pump being the latest improvement for an establishment of this kind. A garage will be opened in connection with the oil station, this to take place tomorrow. This garage will specialize on Ford repairing, although other work will be done. Auto accessories also will be sold. In connection with this establishment there are rest rooms for ladies and gentlemen.

HOW THE RED COW BROKE HER COMPACT
By JOHN BARTON

(Copyright, 1921, by The Associated Newspapers.)

A pretty funny time the woodsfolk had escorting Tad Coon home to Dr. Muskrat's Pond after his thrilling rescue. The foxes had only kept him one night in the willow tree, but he thought he was starving, so he wanted to hunt out every froggy reed-clump and every mouse-trail he stumbled across. Ore else, some silly little sound would send him climbing again because his nerves were so on edge he was sure foxes were coming back after him. Or else, he'd want to sit down and discuss how the Red Cow came to be hunting in the Deep Woods with Trailer the hound. Just answer him that!

Nobody could. Nibble Rabbit and Chips Beaver and old Dr. Muskrat were just as puzzled as he was. And just as bursting with curiosity. But, as Dr. Muskrat said: "Any bird will find if you just watch it long enough." Meaning that you always find out some time.

Of course he didn't mean Tad. But the words were scarcely out from under his whiskers before the scary fellow was trying to scramble up the wire fence in a new panic. And this time they all trembled with him—for they heard a moan!

"Someone's in trouble!" gasped Nibble. His feet really wanted to run away, but the sound was so very sad he summoned up all his courage and crept over to see who was making it. Softly he picked his way through the curly leaves, without making a rustle. After a breathless moment they heard him thump: "Come on! Come quick!"

You've guessed who it was. It was the Red Cow. She knew a hole in the fence. Nibble Rabbit had forgotten 'Twas the hole with the gate Tommy Peele's big Cousin Sandy opened for Redskin when Tommy and Louie

Thomson rode him home from the Big Marsh. The horse couldn't have opened it for himself. But you remember the noise that wasn't a tree falling because the "Elan" came at the wrong end of it? That was when the Red Cow rammed her hard head against it. Smash! She bunted the top rail into kindling wood and leaped the gap.

But she broke more than the gate. She broke her compact with Tommy Peele and his old dog, Watch. "Mmoo!" she moaned. "I've gone wild. I've gone wild, but I don't want to stay here in the Deep Woods; it's a horrible place. I want to be back. Mmoo!" And she couldn't. All the splinters she left behind had turned into spikes that pricked her red skin so she didn't dare try to jump through them. "O-o-o! If Watch doesn't find me, who'll do my milking. And if he does, what can I say to him?" She was just breaking her heart about it.

MRS. WILLIAMS TO GO IN BUSINESS

Mrs. Nettie Williams, 811 East Colorado street, and assistant to D. H. Smith at the Brand boulevard branch of the Los Angeles Trust & Savings bank, has resigned her position there to take effect November 1, having bought an interest in the Tujunga Supply company at Tujunga. This company is being formed into a corporation with a paid up capital of $10,000. Mrs. Williams will be secretary and treasurer, and is disposing of her real estate in Glendale and negotiating to build a home in Tujunga.

(a) The ground is adjacent to the only city park, where the swimming pool is to be located. I have been informed that parents are paying a considerable fee to have their children attend the Brookside Park swimming pool for instruction.

(b) There is more building activity in the northwest section than in any other, and no room for expansion, which is bound to come, than in any other section. Notice all the subdivisions opening up in the northwest section.

(c) There are 1065 pupils attending three schools on the west side to 927 pupils attending five schools elsewhere, by actual registration.

(d) The property can be purchased a great deal cheaper than that on the east side and it should be worth more money in five years' time.

(e) It will cost much less to put the property in shape for only streets will be required, while on the east besides some street work there will have to be removal of houses, grading, removal of trees, and considerable preparation of the soil for lawn and gardens.

(f) Glendale is growing so rapidly that it must have room in which to expand. The choice on the east would require the people all along the northwest slope to enter the Burbank school district, and very likely cause much of that territory to annex to Burbank, and certainly would lose for Glendale that section between Glendale and Burbank which has twice turned down elections for annexation to Burbank and is now considering one to come into Glendale.

(g) The car line is only two blocks away.

I am very willing to confess that the northwest section has a warm spot in my heart, but my reasons are absolutely practical and unbiased. Thank you very much for the courtesy of allowing me to have my say.

FAN TAN REIGNS ON TRIPS ON PACIFIC
OVER TO ORIENT

Famous Chinese Game Attracts Passengers on Liners

MID OCEAN, Oct. 24.—Spinning the little wicked roulette top with its little "take all" at Los Angeles tea parties; playing the races in Mexico; buying tickets on the Chinese lottery in Shanghai; breaking the bank at Monte Carlo and "shootin' craps" down in Dixie are fascinating, but—

Fan tan is the game of chance which rules supreme on the big ocean liners sailing from San Francisco to Hong Kong.

Men of all nationalities, of all ranks, of life, of many creeds and languages meet on an equal footing around the fan tan tables, for the little lady of fan tan plays no favorites. She scorns, laughs at, smiles upon and favors the rich, the poor, the brown or tea white, the high or the low according to her whim and fancy.

From early morning until long after midnight the fan tan tables are busy. First-class passengers climb down the narrow stairs from the main deck to the staterooms to play the game. Debutantes in smart sport costumes, social leaders from the world's famous watering places, business men, professional gamblers, school teachers on a long-dreamed-of vacation, business girls going out to accept positions with large firms in the Far East, young men hoping to make their fortunes in the Orient, the idle rich on a trip around the world, all yield to the lure of fan tan.

Yellow faces, impassive and expressionless; unshaven Russian faces, eager and tense; East Indian faces, alert and earnest; tourist faces, patronizing and watchful, bend over the table.

A Cantonese wearing an American-made straw hat and smoking a long white brass Chinese water pipe sits at the end of the table. He rubs his slim, tapering hand, with its tobacco-stained fingers and long nails through a great pile of white buttons. Just plain white buttons—the kind that come off little Willie's shirt. But it is this little pile of white buttons which wins or loses hundreds or even thousands of dollars on a long ocean trip and over which men of all races bend with breathless interest while the count is made.

Buttons Tell Tale

The players place their money on the numbers in the center of the table which run from one to four. A second Chinese, keeper of the money till, makes a noise like someone in pain, then the Cantonese counts the buttons in groups of four. At the end of the count the number of buttons left wins. If two buttons are extra the men placing money on number two win and receive three times the amount placed. If one button is left, New 1 wins and so on came after game. Hundreds of dollars are won during the trip and hundreds lost. Often young men gamble away their entire expense money and arrive in a strange port with just enough change to pay their boat tips, while seamen lost or triple their wages for the trip.

According to an Indian of high caste who was educated in Europe and America and who is a devotee of fan tan, the man with the long purse will win in the end, for he can play until he regains his losses, but the man with the short purse should resist the call of the capricious lady of fan tan as he would the luring song of the heartless Circe of old.

CHIEF MARTIN SAYS NEW JAIL NEEDED

"Glendale needs a new jail," Chief of Police Martin says. "If we had a regular jail, Wiley, the forger, would not have escaped."

The chief went further and stated that in addition to a new jail the city police department should be housed in a building apart from the city hall. The present quarters are too small. The desk sergeant, the chief and all of the patrolmen are forced to transact their business in a room that is hardly large enough for the chief to use as a private office, he declares.

The chief said that what is really needed here is a building for the police department with a private office for the chief another room for the desk sergeant to use in meeting the public that has business to transact with the police department, and some cells in the rear of the building where prisoners will always be under the observation of the sergeant on duty at the desk.

"The present jail in the rear of the engine house was a small town when Glendale was a small town with a town marshal, but the city has outgrown a small town 'hoosgow' or lock-up and needs a real jail and police station. The lock-up has two cells that are all right to hold a victim of John Barleycorn over night but it is not safe to lock a real criminal there. It is too easy for him to escape."

CATHOLIC CHURCH IS OPENED SUNDAY

The first regular Sunday services in the new edifice of the Holy Family Catholic Church were held Sunday with masses at 8 o'clock and 10:30, and Sunday school at 9:30. At all of these services the church was filled.

At the 10:30 service Father O'Neill thanked the members of the congregation for special gifts and expressed his appreciation of all that had been done to make possible the beautiful house of worship.

NO DUCK HUNTING CHATSWORTH LAKE

Word has just been received that the city of Los Angeles has issued an order prohibiting hunting, fishing or camping at Chatsworth Lake. No reason for the order has been given by officials in Los Angeles. The message was received by Gus Wagner, who was contemplating weekend fishing and hunting trips to the vicinity of the lake. These parties will have to be cancelled according to the edict from Los Angeles.

BIG IMPROVEMENT MADE BY WILSON

L. H. Wilson, recently of Chicago, has been doing things since arriving in Glendale a few days ago. He has just completed the purchase of 20 lots on San Fernando road just south of Park avenue, where he will construct beautiful homes as soon as arrangements can be made. There has been some activity in the building line in that section recently, but the improvements contemplated by Mr. Wilson will be the biggest thing in that territory for years.

LADIES GET READY FOR BIG BAZAAR

The ladies of the Congregational Church are all very busy at this time getting ready for their bazaar which is to be held December 1 and 2. Each booth at the bazaar is to represent different ages from babyhood up to grandmotherhood. Mrs. E. W. W. Hayward, 304 North Kenwood street, is chairman of the grandmother committee and there will be an all-day meeting at her home next Wednesday for the members of her committee.

EVELYN ELLISON TAKES TREATMENT

Miss Evelyn Ellison of Berkeley, who for months continued to fall in health until she started blood-transfusion treatments at the Glendale Research hospital, several months ago, was given another treatment at that institution yesterday. Berkeley by her sister, Mildred, who gave the blood necessary for the treatment. Since taking the treatment last month Miss Evelyn has gained five pounds and is rapidly approaching a normal condition of health.

GUESS WEIGHT BIG PUMPKIN, GET PRIZE

Just think how many good, luscious, pumpkin pies that great big yellow-colored pumpkin in the show window of Cornwell & Kelly, 107 South Brand boulevard, would make. If they were the deep, mellow, creamy kind of the variety that mother used to make you could probably get a haunch of that one pumpkin, but if they were the kind you get at the average "bannery," the spread-out, leathery sort you could get a thousand or two out of it, maybe.

But this pumpkin is not going to be made into pies, at least not until it has fulfilled its present use. It is being used in the annual guessing contest that was put on this morning by this hardware firm. For the last ten years this firm has conducted a contest of this kind. To the four persons who come nearest to guessing the weight of the mammoth pumpkin will go the prizes. There will be a prize for the ladies, another for the men, and prizes also for the boy and girl who guess nearest to the exact weight of the pumpkin. The end of the contest will be next Monday evening at 5 o'clock. The pumpkin used in this contest was secured from the ranch of A. P. Stone at Turlock, California. Last year's contest brought out 1500 answers, and it is expected that this year there will be even a greater number than this.

VETERANS GET AID FROM STATE NOW

According to Adjutant James McDryde, of Glendale Post No. 127 of the American Legion, six former service men in Glendale have taken advantage of the opportunity offered by the state to complete their education under the California Veterans' Educational Institute Act, approved May 30, 1921, and effective last Thursday, October 21.

While only six men have signified their intention of taking advantage of the state assistance, applications for the assistance as these applications can be secured through the Grand Army of the Republic, United Spanish War Veterans, Disabled Veterans of the World War, Disabled American Veterans of the World War, American Legion of Foreign Wars, the American Red Cross and the county clerk of each county in addition to the American Legion.

Under this act any veteran of the World War who desires to complete his education will be given state aid to the extent of having his tuition and other fees paid, the necessary books and supplies purchased for him, the monthly payment of an allowance to cover all or a part of the living expenses of a student at a day school, not to exceed $40 per month.

The applicant for educational assistance under this act must have been a bona fide resident of the state of California at the time of his enlistment or induction to the service of the nation for the war.

Foley's Friendly Fancies

THE PEACEMAKER

He come, red hot, about some hay
He leased th' right fer way last May
So he said when he come to me.
Because I cut th' hay, y' see;
I was a-whistlin' some old tune
On my back porch right afternoon.
An' I says: "Hello, Tom," says I.
An' he says: "Ye're a swindler, Hi."
An' I says: "Think so?" not much hot.
An' he says: "That's th' truth what."
An' I says: "Mebbe! Mebbe not!"

That's all I said an' whistled on.
An' he just ranted like he'd gone
Clean off his head, an' shook his fist
An' acted th' contraryist.

"I spoke fer that hay first," says I.
An' he says: "No, y' didn't, Hi.
I'm goin' t' have th' law on you
Before y' git that hay in, too."

An' I says: "Are ye?" kind o' dry.
An' he says: "Sure as shootin', Hi."
An' I says: "Mebbe! Better try."

That's all I said, and whistled more
Of that same tune he heard before.
An' I just let him have his say:
I didn't care—I had th' hay.

An' he says: "Hi, I'm fightin' mad,
An' when I'm fightin' mad I'm bad,
An' when I'm bad I'm apt to do
Some damage to somebody, too."

An' I says: "Are ye?" kind o' slow.
An' he says: "Just exactly so."
An' I says: "Mebbe! I dunno!"

That's all I said, an' whistled some
Just like I did before he came,
An' when he see I wasn't hot
At anything th' worse he got;

Good nature didn't seem to be
Th' medicine fer him I see.
An' he says: "Stow that tune away.
I come to talk about that hay."

An' I says: "Did ye?" when he's through.
An' he says: "Yes, an' you will, too."
An' I says: "Mebbe! See 'f I do."

An' I just whistled on, an' when
I struck th' end I'd start again.
An' then he swung out straight at me
But why he did I can't yet see.

An' I just dodged, an' he swung 'round.
An' lost his balance an' fell down.
So I just set on him an' say!
He swore he'd make me eat that hay.

An' I says: "Will ye?" when I got
Him fast an' he says: "That's just what."
An' I says: "Mebbe! Mebbe not!"

That's all I said, an' I set there
On him, an' whistled that same air
An' finally he just come to
Himself, an' laughed, an' I did, too;

So we got up an' had our laugh.
An' I says: "Tom, let's half an' half
On that there hay; let's Golden Rule!"
An' he says: "I'm a durned old fool!"

An' I says: "Are ye?" kind o' slow.
An' he says: "Surest thing you know."
An' I says: "Mebbe! I guess so!"

WRESTLING MATCH NOW BEING RUMORED

It is rumored that the challenge of "Butch" Metzetti to George Hackenschmidt for a wrestling bout has been accepted and the wrestlers will meet some time during Armistice week under the auspices of the American Legion Post. "Butch" Metzetti has wrestled with Hackenschmidt and lost. According to Metzetti he was not in the best of condition. A few days ago he challenged Hackenschmidt through the Glendale Daily Press and Hackenschmidt has accepted the challenge. While the match is practically assured the executive committee of the Legion would not confirm the report that the agreement had been signed between the two wrestlers. Due to the national reputation of Hackenschmidt and the fact that there has existed an animosity between the two men for some time this match bids to be one of the hottest mat contests staged for some time.

MOTHER'S NIGHT AT T. D. & L. TONIGHT

Tom Mix, as usual, "got" the crowds at the T. D. & L. theater yesterday when he appeared in his latest William Fox production, "A Ridin' Romeo." Besides the thrilling scenes always to be found in Mix pictures, there is an unusual amount of humorous incidents that are a part and parcel of the story.

Babe Ruth, the idol of every ball fan, in his first feature production, "Headin' Home," is the other picture on this double program, which will be shown again tonight.

Tonight is "Mother's Night" again, and some very clever children are on the bill. This is proving to be a great treat, not only for the mothers, but for the whole family as well. Everyone enjoys seeing children perform.

Mr. and Mrs. William Weger of 332 Ethel street entertained at dinner yesterday Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hartley and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hertenberg of Los Angeles.

ANNUAL MEETING OF REALTY BOARD

The Glendale Realty Board has resumed activities after several months of idleness. A meeting was called last Friday to discuss the matter of renting a house by Albert Spohr of the Spohr Drug Store at Brand and Broadway, to a negro. This was a meeting of the governing committee of the board and was held at the office of Charles P. Guthrie. Seven of the nine members were present and a resolution was prepared for endorsement of the Glendale Avenue Improvement Association at the meeting held on Friday night.

In addition to preparing this resolution, plans were discussed for the annual meeting on November 3. It was decided to make an attempt to secure the Intermediate school of this city for the meeting and to invite all real estate dealers in Glendale to attend.

DR. BIRD SPEAKER Y. M. C. A. LUNCHEON

Sixty men, all of whom are members of teams which are to canvass Glendale for funds to sustain the Y. M. C. A. work in this city the coming year, were guests at a luncheon given yesterday at the Glendale Presbyterian Church, Charles Ingledue being in charge of the affair.

The chief speaker was Dr. Bird, president of Occidental College, who made a fine talk on the value of Christian training and on the work of the Y. M. C. A. He dwelt on the evolution that has taken place in our school system and the obstacles to be overcome by the youth of the present day as compared with the simpler times of their fathers and grandfathers.
